(These changes apply to memorials added after January 11, 2022.)

Memorials for the recently deceased

When adding memorials for the recently deceased, if you are not a family member and it is too soon for the burial information to be known, please wait until it is known to create the memorial.

When adding a memorial for a recently deceased person (within the past year), the form will ask if you are related, select Yes, and choose your relationship. When adding your relationship, you can decide to make it public or private using the checkbox "Show relationship in the source information." If related within their updated transfer guidelines, found under Request to Manage, the memorial is added traditionally and managed by the close relative.

Member is not related, following the updated transfer guidelines. Be sensitive to family members, as the memorial displays limited information to others on the site

Are you a close relative? ☒ Yes ☐ No Why do we ask?

☒ Show relationship in source information

Your relationship will be displayed in source information on the memorial as:

Created by: Your Profile Name • RELATIVE: GRANDCHILD

The manager's view of the memorial is the same as any other memorial they manage.

Managing a close relative's memorial

During those first three months after the death date (when the memorial displays with a limited view), they have added a simple way for close relatives to request to manage the memorial. A close relative can click the 'Manage' button, add their relationship, and become the manager for a new memorial for that person. The option to 'Manage' can be found on the memorial and in memorial lists. Since the manager is related, the memorial will display and act as any other memorial. You can choose to make your relationship public or private.

To request to manage a memorial for someone you are related to (within our updated transfer guidelines) who has died in the past year, select 'Manage' and go through the process to become the memorial manager.

Adding Your Relationship to Memorials You Manage

Relationship information helps Find-a-Grave make decisions about merges, transfer requests, and memorials for the recently deceased. To add your relationship to an existing monument that you manage, select Edit, scroll down, and choose your relationship.

You can choose to make your relationship public or private. If you decide to keep your relationship private, nothing will be displayed next to your profile name for other members, but you will note that your relationship is private.

for the first three months after the death date. After three months from the death date, the view of the memorial is no longer limited. The memorial will show as others do, except that for up to a year from the death date, the option for a close relative to 'Manage' the memorial will show on the memorial.

Here is an example of what a memorial for a recently deceased person looks like in a search list (for everyone except the manager):

150th Arbor Day – April 29, 2022

National Arbor Day is the last Friday in April

Ohio Arbor Day is also the last Friday in April

Arbor Day is a national holiday created to recognize the importance of trees. The most common way people celebrate Arbor Day is to plant trees.

Union County Journal Marysville, Ohio April 19, 1888 – Arbor Day at the Springs

The Directors of the Marysville Magnetic Springs respectfully request all persons who desire to contribute in beautifying the Spring Grounds to each furnish a tree at the Grounds on Arbor Day, April 17, 1888. A competent man will be in attendance to plant the trees when delivered. Let every person who has the interest of the Springs and town at heart join in this ornamentation.

with Speakers

Roger Minert & Stephen Wendt

Sessions:

Stephen Wendt - Searching for Your Elusive Prussian Ancestors: A Case Study

Prussia once controlled parts of what is now modern Germany and Poland. Gain a better understanding of historical Prussia in the pursuit of records with numerous examples and resources. Covering Prussian Culture, Prussian Genealogy basics, and a case study.

- Exploring German Emigration Records

You will better understand the historical ports used for German emigration and the value of German emigration records. You cover the basics of German emigration history, German emigration genealogy, and a Prussian emigration case study.

Roger Minert - Cemeteries in Central Europe

The customs associated with funerals and burials in German-language regions of Europe are substantially different from corresponding rituals in the United States. The layout and maintenance of cemeteries is also quite different. In this presentation, images illustrate cemetery conditions and cultural customs associated with funerals and burials. The presenter demonstrates how the individual or family grave and appearance are of great concern to Europeans - the question of death and burial records--often asked by North American researchers--are also discussed in detail. This updated presentation was during Prof. Minert's recent stay in Frankfurt am Main, Germany.

- Addressing "BRICK WALLS" in German Genealogy

Mr. Minert's presentation will cover accessing German documents and traveling to/in Germany at this time. For a different twist, Dr. Minert is willing to help several Individuals with brick walls research German ancestors in this Q&A session. Please submit your Brick Wall question with details asap to Tom Fishbaugh at tomf@fishbaugh.com. The cutoff for submitted questions is April 6, 2022. Dr. Minert will review questions and take them for consideration.

Old Bowling Alley Wood Used to Help Build Saxbe Homes

Marysville Journal-Tribune (Marysville, Ohio) 3 May 1954, Mon – Page 8

Marysville is well-represented in the new Mechanicsburg home of U.S. senatorial candidate of Bill Saxbe.

Much of the lumber used in the Saxbe family's new residence formerly saw service in the Marysville Bowling Alleys located in the basement of the present Kroger store.

According to Ernie Smith, one of the operators of the former recreation spot, lumber from the alleys was first sold to an Irwin man. Saxbe later purchased it to minimize building costs.

Present Speaker of the Ohio House of Representatives, Saxbe, opposes George Bender for the Republican nomination as U.S. Senator.

Cortege Halts As Truck Hit Hearse

Cortege Halts As Truck Hit Hearse

A funeral procession was halted Tuesday when a truck was injured by an unfortunate accident on Route Four, 7 miles south of Marysville at 3:45 p.m. Tuesday.

The accident happened when Richard Mattox, 24, Urbana, lost control of the 1949 Ford dump truck he was driving, and came across the center line, hitting a 1948 Packard funeral coach driven by William Lee, Marysville funeral director.

The entire front end of the truck was demolished and the left front of the Packard was very badly damaged. Both Mr. Lee and Rev. Rodger Sillars, who was riding in the coach, were badly shaken up and bruised and treated by Dr. Walter Burt. The truck driver was shaken up but not injured.

The funeral coach from the Reed Funeral Home at Milford Center was called and the procession was continued. The Union County Sheriff's Department investigated the accident.

The Reed Funeral Home and business sale in Milford Center to Mr. and Mrs. Elden Grigg of the Siferd Funeral Home of Lima was announced today by R. Glen Reed.

Mr. and Mrs. Grigg, experienced funeral directors, will take possession of the property and business on or about November 1. The Griggs have a son, Garey, aged seven.

Mr. and Mrs. Reed founded the funeral home in Milford Center thirteen years ago after moving from Xenia, and for eight years, Mr. Reed also conducted a furniture store and his funeral home.

The Reeds have announced no immediate plans for the future.

Eldon Grigg was related to Charles C. Siferd, who opened Siferd Funeral Home in 1913 in Lima, Ohio.

After 1962, the house was converted into a private residence. The house at 47 S Mill is still there. The current condition of the house in 2022 is beyond repair and empty.

Editor's Note: Karen Sayre, an UCCOGS member, asked where the Reed Funeral Home was. To my surprise, it was in the same block my in-laws lived in, and my husband grew up. Thanks, Karen, for needing this information we found on death certificates and contributing to the newsletter.

My sister-in-law, Debbie Scott, remembers when the Roberts lived there with five children. She spent nights sleeping overnight, and the kids told ghost stories. Debbie could sleep thru anything as she grew up by the railroad tracks.
